

Karen Bartleson

2017 IEEE President & CEO

Leading for the Future

As President of IEEE, Karen Bartleson is committed to developing and empowering the next generation of female technologists and engineers. She is dedicated to increasing the diversity of technologists working in industry and encouraging women and girls to lead for the future.

Join Karen as she shares her experiences from over 35 years in the engineering industry, including the challenges and opportunities she has faced and the key lessons learned.

Monday 8 May 2017
10:00 am
CMHS Auditorium
UR-Nyarugenge Campus